Presentation Title: Centering Asian American Narrative and Combating Anti-Asian Hate

Bianca Mabute-Louie, MA (she/her/hers) conducts research, creates resources, and facilitates workshops to support individuals and organizations in their pursuit of racial justice. As a daughter of Cantonese immigrants, Bianca is especially dedicated to helping Asian Americans embrace their racial/ethnic identities, understand their place in racial politics, and hold their stake in racial justice movements. She got her MA in Asian American Studies at SFSU, and she is now pursuing her PhD in Sociology at Rice University. Her forthcoming scholarship centers Asian Americans in the national discourse on race, religion, and politics.
